Background Information	In 2019, the City Council adopted a comprehensive update to the City's municipal master plan. This updated plan includes requirements as outlined in statute, that among other things, ensures the City's eligibility in state programs such as designations (Downtown designation and Neighborhood Development Area), and state funding opportunities (such as municipal planning grants). The master plan is updated on an eight-year cycle, with a four-year interim check in with the Regional Planning Commission. The purpose of this check-in is to show progress towards master plan goals. While the City's check in is not intended to occur until 2023, staff has been tracking progress on the goals and objectives. For reference, the goals and objectives included in the master plan are used to inform the specific strategies and priorities that are adopted annually by City Council and serve as a general work plan for staff. Staff presented this information to Council at their regular meeting on April 18 th . This is an update based on that discussion.
